ROTARIANS OBSERVE PEACE ANNIVERSARY

Armistice Day Celebrated by Appropriate Program—Consequences of War Discussed by Dr. J. R. Countiss—Says "New Vision" Failed to Come When Soldier Boys Returned.

The celebration of the tenth anniversary of the day when the nations of the world laid down their arms and peace was declared was most fittingly observed Tuesday, Nov. 13, by the Grenada Rotary Club when an Armistice Day program was given. Five attractive young ladies from Grenada College, Misses Hardin, Eason, Clark, O'Brien and Pepple, under the direction of Miss Irene Mae Liller, one of the capable and popular members of the college faculty, rendered several vocal selections, patriotic songs and songs popular in the army camps during the great war, and these were followed by a splendid address by Dr. J. R. Countiss, president of Grenada College and member of the Grenada Rotary Club.

The speaker recalled the days of the world war, showing how the killing of one man in Serbia started the world-wide conflagration. He mentioned the rousing appeals made from platforms and pulpits in those anxious days and recalled the prophesying of the "new vision" the soldier boys would have when they returned home from the war. He said preachers and speakers talked of the war camps as if they were Christian training schools for the boys where they were imbued with the spirit of Christ and as if their army experience would make of them better citizens and that as a result a more God-fearing nation would follow.

Dr. Countiss said in effect that the new day and the new vision had not yet come. He attributed a great deal of the demoralization of the present age to the effects of the war but he said that the youth of today is not to be blamed for its alleged lack of respect for conventions and for those things formerly regarded as sacred and holy. He laid the blame for the greater part of this on the elders and said that the youth is just trying to keep pace with the older folks. He cited several instances from his own personal experience to show that the young people of today are not hopeless and that they have in them the elements of good citizenship. He said that nations were learning more and more how to settle their disputes without the use of arms and that they were learning to go into court with their differences just as do individual citizens. Dr. Countiss said that he was no pacifist and that he believed that there are times when nations must fight just as there are occasions when the individual must resort to physical combat but he stated that he prayed God that such times would never come again. He told of the immense loss of human life during the great war and of the appalling number who were totally and partially incapacitated and he gave figures to show the vast debt fastened on this and other nations that will not be paid for generations to come.

The speaker concluded his remarks by telling how the spread of Rotary throughout the world might serve to bring about a better understanding and a greater fellowship among nations, thereby creating in them a desire for more amicable adjustment of international disputes and he stated that it was his hope that this feeling would greatly aid in averting future wars.

Prior to Dr. Countiss' address, L. A. Olson, of Grenada, district agricultural extension agent, called the attention of the club to the election that is to be held in Grenada county on Nov. 24 to determine whether or not the county agents are to be retained and he called attention to the good things he thought were being accomplished by the agents here. He spoke of the work planned by them for the future and he urged the Rotarians to give careful thought to the question.

Rotarian J. R. Fewell, of Charleston, and W. J. Jennings, of Grenada, were other guests at the luncheon.

"FRESHMAN WEEK" IS OBSERVED AT COLLEGE

Strange sights were seen on the campus of the college last week as the sophomores lorded their authority over the freshmen, who had to appear in all kinds of costumes representing nearly everything from babies to Sir Walter Raleigh. One morning all the freshmen were made to wear their clothes backward, and throughout the week they had to obey all the commands of the sophomores. The trials and tribulations for the freshmen ended Saturday night at which time the upper classmen held kangaroo court for the purpose of trying them for all misdemeanors during the whole week.

Refuse from sugar cane is now being made into synthetic lumber.

THANKSGIVING GIFTS WANTED FOR CHILDREN

The Good Book says the Lord loves a cheerful giver, and by the same token it may be prophesied that His love increased with the generosity of the giver.

The people of America are probably called upon to give oftener than those of any other country and they respond more generously. This comes from the fact that we are a prosperous people; we have more to give than any other people. We are a religious people; we consider it our duty in carrying out the wishes of a Divine Creator to aid the poor and helpless. We are a generous people; we are always willing to give to a worthy cause up to the limit.

Because we are prosperous we ought to be thankful, and while returning thanks to the day set apart for that purpose—Thursday, November 29, we should think of those less fortunate, upon whom the hand of a cruel fate has been placed and out of our abundance donate a portion to the comfort and happiness of others.

Helpless little children, those deprived of the blessing of a mother's love and a father's care, should appeal to the tenderest emotions of the human heart and loosen the purse strings of the pockets while touching the wellsprings of the heart.

There is located in Jackson an institution that is doing incalculable good along this line, taking charge of children deserted by parents or whose parents are no longer able to care for them and placing them in good homes where they will share the advantages of home training and grow into good and useful men and women. So far as it is able it is also helping mothers who are struggling to support themselves and their children, who have been deprived through death or desertion of the loving care of a husband and father, and many pitiful cases have been unearthed in investigating cases of this kind.

It is the custom of this institution—the Mississippi Children's Home Society—each Thanksgiving Day to ask donations from its friends and well wishers. Thanksgiving Day will soon be here. Every little bit helps. When you sit down to a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner and return thanks for the many blessings that a kind and indulgent Creator has bestowed upon you during the past twelve months, run your hand down into your jeans and say, "Thank, the Lord that He has put it into my heart to give in accordance with my means to this institution which is supporting the mothers and rescuing the orphans and restoring them to their rightful place in society."

It's not asking much—just a little from each one who reads this appeal and the aggregate will swell the treasury of the Mississippi Home Society to workable dimensions, and you will feel a pride in having been the means of aiding in the rescuing of some little waif or relieving some distressed mother and restoring them to health and happiness.

Dr. John L. Sutton and his good wife are in charge of this institution; their hearts are in the work and they are doing everything in their power to make a success of his splendid work.

Won't you help them and see how much you will enjoy your Thanksgiving dinner?

Mississippi Children's Home Society.

GIRL RESERVE NEWS

The Girl Reserves of the high school held their weekly meeting last Thursday. The president, Dit Perry, opened the meeting with reports from the different committees. The program was then turned over to the program chairman, Mary Lynn Houston. It was as follows:

Devotional, Bessie Phelan Sharp, "What Is Poetry?" Ruth Austin, two poems, Grace Kirk, Kinds of Poetry, Velma Moss, "Myself, Birthen Lee, The Appeals of Poetry, Susie Horton, "Express Yourself," Elizabeth Goza, Watchword, all.

The girls sent as delegates to the Girl Reserve conference at Winton on Nov. 9 were Billy Chapuis, Dit Perry, and Annie Elizabeth Dubard.

GIRL SCOUTS TROOP 2

There was a meeting of troop 2 Monday afternoon. There was a large attendance and good reports were given in.

The flag ceremony was performed, then the rest of the meeting dealt with girl scout work.

The National Girl Scout Week is next week. Every day is devoted to a certain thing to be done by scouts. On Friday a banquet is to be given in honor of the scout mothers and fathers. Mrs. Katherine L. M. Lilley and several girl scouts from Memphis will be present. The scouts gave a large applause when they heard of Mrs. Lilley's proposed visit, because she was loved by all who went to Kamp Kiwan.

The scouts voted unanimously for the banquet and the meeting adjourned with "taps".

Airport Requirement To Be Analyzed By Experts At National Conference

FOR the first time in its history, the Seventh Annual Asphalt Paving Conference, which will be held this year at New Orleans during the week beginning December 3, will discuss technical problems and requirements involved in the construction of airport runways, aprons, landing strips and roadways, and their surface treatment. Included in the roster of notables who are expected to participate in the conference are William P. MacCracken, assistant Secretary of Commerce in Charge of Aeronautics, and Col. H. H. Blee, engineer for the Aeronautical Division of the Department.

Demand for expert consideration of airport construction problems is engendered by the remarkable development of commercial airway systems in the United States. Keen competition between rival airplane lines for the lion's share of passenger and express traffic, has compelled the carriers to use larger and more luxurious planes and to build safer and more attractive landing fields, with up-to-date waiting rooms and associated conveniences, similar to the accommodations featured by prosperous railroad systems.

As a safety measure and to assure a comfortable take-off or landing, many of the airports have constructed, or are planning the construction of asphalt surfaced runways. Airport engineers point out that the visibility of the asphalt pavement is unexcelled for day or night landings or take-offs. It forms an outstanding background for the standard 100 foot circle marking the airport and the guide lines for the runways, while identification markers and directional indicators of white or orange paint contrast vividly with it.

Recently the asphaltic background of the hangar aprons at Sacramento, Calif., won the praise of Colonel Lindbergh, who was a guest there of the field management. Commander Byrd also favors asphalt paving for airports.

In addition to airport discussion, the New Orleans conference will present new and far-reaching economic and technical questions of vital importance to road builders and the expansion of the nation's good roads' program. The vast possibilities in the surface treatment of the many thousands of miles of roads that constitute the secondary system of highways will be dealt with by an ensemble of prominent engineers and technical experts, including several officials of the United States Bureau of Public Roads. This feature of low cost road surfacing has been endorsed by many states and companies with the plea of the Department of Commerce for the conservation of national assets through the use of local materials in highway construction.

Another high spot at the conference will be the presentation of reports from highway officials as to the most economical types of asphalt road surfacing, based on scientific tests and personal observations of "wear and tear". Reports will be submitted by officials from the following states, viz., Massachusetts, Michigan, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, Georgia and California, along with officials of the Province of Ontario in Canada. City, county, state and Federal highway officials from all parts of the country will attend the conference for which a most elaborate entertainment program has been planned. The local arrangements are being cared for by Hon. John Klorer, Commissioner of Public Property, City of New Orleans.

TRAVELERS PLAN EARLY ERECTION OF HEALTH UNIT

The Mississippi Travelers' Association has begun solicitation of funds from its membership, for the establishment of a ten-thousand dollar unit at Sanatorium, Miss., for the benefit of unfortunate members of the organization.

The Mississippi Travelers' Association itself, at its last convention in Tupelo, appropriated three thousand dollars to this worthy purpose, provided the members of the organization would subscribe an additional seven thousand, making a ten thousand dollar budget. The budget of ten thousand will provide at least twenty-five beds. It is hoped to complete the project within the next few months.

Fred Mitchell, of Meridian, past president of the organization, has been named general chairman of the drive for support for this helpful undertaking.

The state of Mississippi has been divided into twelve districts with the following district chairmen in charge:

Meridian District, H. R. Court; Jackson, W. H. Waddell and John L. Smith; Laurel, J. P. Reddock; Gombor, Frank J. Kroulik; McComb, W. M. Davis; Natchez, G. O. Korndorfer; Greenville, Fred Ehrlich; Greenwood, R. K. Woodward; Kosciusko, S. H. Meek; Grenada, J. C. Prose; West Point, V. E. Bogan; Tupelo, D. D. Black.

WINTON WINS IN APPEAL TO STATE SUPREME COURT

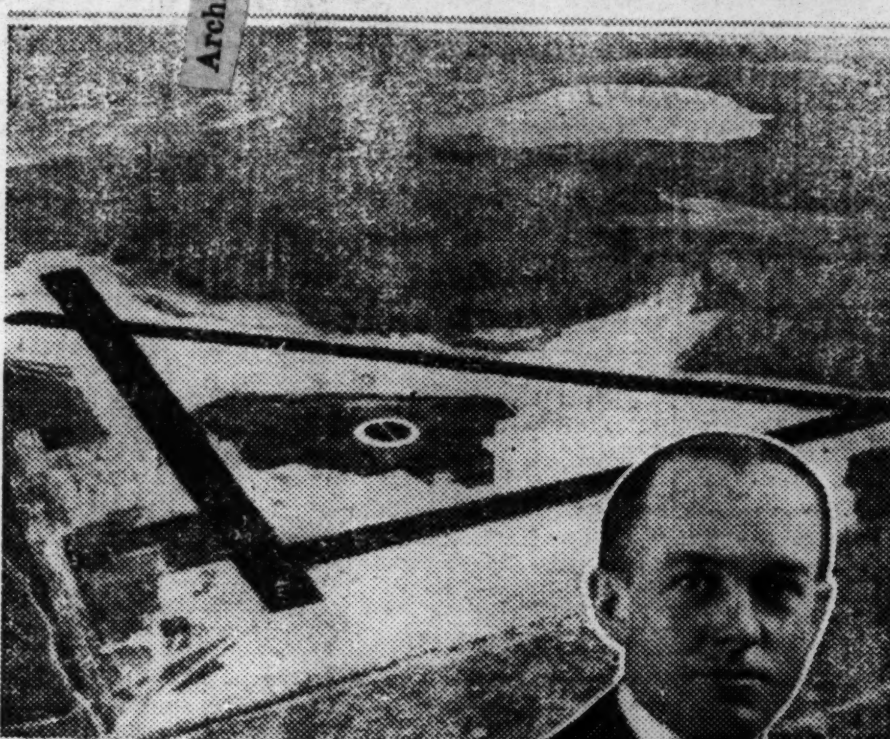

The Mississippi Supreme Court handed down a decision Monday in a case of interest to Grenadians when it reversed and gave judgment for the appellant, D. K. Winton, in the damage suit decided against him in the January term of circuit court. Winton was defendant in a suit for $10,000 damages, the suit being filed by T. F. Patterson, a former employee of Winton's. The jury in the Grenada circuit court gave judgment for Patterson in the amount of $1,000. Winton appealed the case to the supreme court which decided Monday in his favor.

A. M. Carothers and the late B. D. Newsom, of the local bar, Col. S. L. McLaurin, of Brandon, and H. H. Creekmore, of Jackson, represented Winton and Patterson's attorneys were Cowles Horton and S. C. Mims, Jr., of Grenada.

O. F. LAWRENCE STILL ILL

Mr. O. F. Lawrence, who has been confined to his bed for almost two weeks with influenza bronchitis, is regarded as holding his own and his physician believes he will recover if no complications develop. He is still in a critical condition and is not allowed to receive callers.

He and his family appreciate deeply the interest manifested in him by the people of Grenada and elsewhere and they are genuinely grateful for the petitions that have been sent up to the Throne of Grace for his recovery.

GIVES SECOND TALK ABOUT BIBLE LANDS

Presbyterian Minister Delivers Second Lecture Sunday Evening in Series on Tour of Holy Countries in 1924. Ruins of Temple to Baal Cause Speculation as to How Huge Stones Transported. Damascus Is Described.

(Note by Editor: This is the second of a series of lectures by Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Grenada, on a tour of the Holy Lands made by him during 1924. The lecture that follows was delivered by him last Sunday evening in the auditorium of his church. The next will be given next Sunday evening and these lectures are to continue for probably ten weeks. Each will appear in The Sentinel in the issue following its delivery. They will be illustrated each week by pictures selected from those taken by Mr. McLeod's party during the tour. The Sentinel would suggest that its readers preserve these articles as they will always furnish interesting and instructive reading.)

No. 2—The Place of Paul's Conversion

(By Robert L. McLeod, Jr.) Last week our lecture, or rather trip, left us in Beirut, Syria. So let us review last week's Sentinel to get our bearings. Early one morning we left our hotel in a Buick automobile with our faithful and efficient guide and chauffeur. Soon we were leaving the city with genuine reluctance and yet with high anticipation. After rounding a corner, we lost sight of the city and again drove through the largest olive orchard in the world. Then we started ascending the hills as steps for our trip across the Lebanon.

As we rode along this winding road we saw some beautiful scenes. Villages nestled among the mountains, great series of terraces, beautiful orchards and vineyards, flower gardens surrounding bright colored homes. Then I took a glance backward and saw the Mediterranean for the last time until several days later, on the "edge of the hill" near Nazareth. After driving along the crest of this ridge of hills for a short distance, we started on a long continuous climb up the Lebanon.

Very soon we were running into a snowstorm, a little later into sleet and finally hail. All this time we had the top down on the car, for we did not want to miss any sights. As we neared the top of the range we passed a long camel train going toward Beirut, the camels all in a line being led by one man astride a small donkey. This man was barefooted and appeared to be lightly clothed. Now we stopped and the chauffeur announced that we were on the very edge of the Lebanon.

CRIPPLES' FREE CLINIC AT OXFORD DEC. 6TH

On Thursday, December 6th 1928, a free clinic will be held at the Grammar School Building, Oxford, Mississippi for crippled children. This clinic will be under the direction of the Mississippi Society for Crippled Children, which organization will be assisted by committees from the Oxford Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, P. T. A. and the University Y. M. C. A. The purpose of this clinic is to examine all crippled children and to prescribe for them the necessary corrective work. No work will be done at this clinic other than that of examination. An Orthopedic surgeon will be there to give his service free for this clinic.

The examinations will be held in the school building and will begin promptly at 9 a. m. All crippled children, white and colored, in Grenada county and adjoining counties are invited to come to this clinic for an examination. All whose conditions can be corrected will be given an opportunity to apply for free treatment. All organizations in the local counties are invited to organize committees and join with the Mississippi Society for Crippled Children in advertising this clinic at Oxford and getting the crippled children to the clinic. Local physicians and surgeons at Oxford have agreed to give special examination for children suffering from blindness, and harelip. Notice should be sent by Dec. 4, to R. M. Guess, Vice President of the Mississippi Society for Crippled Children, University, Mississippi, stating the number of crippled children to be brought from each county or town.

NEW RECORD IS MADE FOR ANT CAMPAIGNS

A. & M. College, Miss.—A new record for the Argentine ant campaign in Mississippi in one season will be established this fall, according to the State Plant Board. Campaigns have already been completed or scheduled in as many towns as had campaigns in 1926 when the present record of 42 campaigns was made. There are also prospects for several other towns and counties making appropriations before the end of the year. Argentine ants have been found in 132 places in Mississippi, and approximately one-third of these towns are fighting the ants each year in cooperation with the Plant Board. The pests have been entirely exterminated from 6 towns, and complete eradication is expected in several other places within a short time.

PRICE REDUCTIONS RANGING TO $200 MADE IN DODGE LINE

Price reductions ranging up to $200 a car have been announced on all Standard and Victory Six models by Meek Motor Co., local Dodge Brothers dealers. The new prices are effective here immediately. "All cars except the Senior Six line are included at these reduced prices," said Mr. Meek. "Cars on hand are the latest types with varied attractive color combinations and body styles to suit every taste. Sedans, two and four passenger coupes, cabriolets, touring cars and roadsters are offered. Sport or de luxe types are available in addition to standard models.

"The announcement of cars at reduced prices is the result of aggressive work at the factory aiming at a single purpose—volume production and volume sales. Better manufacturing facilities, closer supervision and rearrangement of production operations have been reflected in improved quality and lower cost of these motor cars. These savings are now being passed on for the benefit of the buying public.

"At a time when the automotive dollar never represented a greater value, the latest motor creations of Dodge Brothers at these prices present an unusual opportunity to automobile buyers. The advantage of owning a fast, new stylish and dependable six cylinder car, outstanding in performance and unusually roomy, is brought within the price reach of millions. At the new low prices, the cars represent one of the most significant announcements of the year for the industry."

STYLE SHOW COMING

The Grenada Auto Company, local Chrysler dealers, with the cooperation of their Memphis distributor, will hold a Chrysler Style Show at an early date. They will show a complete line of the "65" and "75" body types.

Chrysler engineers, in the new "75" and "65", have attained a goal in beauty, style and artistry that is absolute. It has given the public something finer in artistry than has ever been available heretofore, because it has, first of all, gained a definite and thorough understanding of the basic fundamentals of body designing, and has followed these principles through to an accomplishment that is brand new and wholly correct.

That is why Chrysler has achieved a new style which will be the vogue of all motordom during the year to come.

You will enjoy this array of the latest fashions in automobiles.

INCOMPLETE CENSUS ALREADY GIVES 2997

Nearly 3000 Enumerated in Grenada by Young Men's Business Club with Census Only Partially Made—Olson Talks—Plan Flags for Town. Club Wants Sign on School for Aviators.

With six committees assigned to thickly populated sections of town yet to report, the census of Grenada being taken by the Young Men's Business Club has so far enumerated 2,997 inhabitants of the city. When the other committees complete their enumeration and the figures are tabulated it is expected that the actual population of Grenada will be shown to be in excess of 5,000. The last census lists Grenada's population at 3,401. The report of the work done so far by the various committees was made Thursday noon at the luncheon of the club by F. R. Lickford, Jr., chairman of the census committee.

L. A. Olson, district agricultural extension agent, appeared before the club and made a strong appeal in behalf of the extension work. Grenada county is to vote Nov. 24 on the question of retaining the agents and it was to interest the business men in the work that Mr. Olson made his plea. A motion that the club go on record as endorsing the work of the agents was withdrawn when objected to.

Committees were appointed to canvass the town Thursday afternoon to see if money could be raised to install permanent flagpoles over the business district so that the town might be decorated in a few minutes' time for any occasion.

A committee was also appointed to appear before the city council at its next meeting to request that body to have painted on the roof of the high school building a sign giving the name of the town and showing the direction to the airplane landing field south of Grenada. Such a step will serve to greatly aid aviators who desire to land here and it will serve also to better advertise the town.

The matter of members of the club financing 4-H club boys for their spring crop and calf club projects was deferred, at the suggestion of County Agent G. R. Fulton, until some time in January.

An additional assessment of $4.00 was made against each member to reimburse two members of the club for their expenses on a trip investigating a factory desiring to locate in Grenada.

The next meeting of the club will be held Thursday, Dec. 6.

PLAYER'S GUILD TO PRESENT "SHOW OFF"

The Player's Guild of Grenada College will open the season next Thursday, November 22, at 8 p. m. with "The Show Off", by George Kelly. The Show Off is considered by a number of critics to be the best play written by an American. It is a splendid play, the lines are clever, the characters true types, and the play as a whole a delightful bit of realism, filled with the kind of humor that makes one chuckle, then roar with laughter. It is a play that has had a fine run in the larger cities for the last two or three years and met with much applause in colleges, universities and little theatres where it has been given.

The Player's Guild marked a new era in dramatics last year in its presentation of Little Women and Duley and many friends of the college have been awaiting with interest its first production this fall. It is the purpose of the guild not only to develop the latent talent of the college in affording an outlet for the expression department but to give to Grenada College students and the citizens of Grenada a high type group of plays each year. Its members feel that The Show Off is admirably suited to their best talent and meets this standard.

The plays of the guild are under the direction of Miss Ruth Bale, expression teacher of the college, who organized the guild last year. The cast of The Show Off includes several of the favorite players in last year's plays, the majority of whom are advanced students in the department of expression. All are admirably adapted to their various roles.

The following girls make up the cast: Misses Evelyn Barrow, Byrdie Jones, Elizabeth Capps, Mary Miller Murry, Helen Canada, Willie Cordel, Adele Mounger, Catherine Cole and Fay Funn. Miss Gunn is president of the guild and plays the leading role. Admission will be 50c and 75c.

COTTON REPORT

There were 6,807 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in Grenada County, from the crop of 1928 prior to November 1, 1928, as compared with 5,492 bales ginned to November 1, 1927.

Mosquitoes are more likely to bite persons with fair skins than those of dark complexion.

TAX BOOKS NOW OPEN

To the Taxpayers of Grenada County:-

The Board of Supervisors has fixed the levy for taxes for the fiscal year 1928-1929 and this is to advise you that the sheriff's office is ready to proceed with the collection of taxes.

It is always advisable to pay your taxes as early as possible and a great portion of Grenada County taxpayers have always done so. This serves to eliminate congestion in the sheriff's office during the last few days of tax paying time and prevents the possibility of your not being waited on within the time limit prescribed by law.

The statutes provide for the assessment of 10 per cent damages on all taxes unpaid before the first of February. The commutation road tax is delinquent after Dec. 15th and the law requires that the names of all delinquents on this tax be turned over to the justices of the peace for collection which, of course, means the adding of damages. By paying your taxes now you will avoid all these unpleasant features and will confer a great favor on this office.

Respectfully,

FRED S. NASON, Sheriff

THE SALVATION ARMY

This is to state it is always a great pleasure to meet friends in Grenada. As the wheels of time roll on and human joys and sorrows prevail in our hearts we can always find a divine security with the Almighty Father of love, who so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son to taste death for every man and purchase our pardon for our transgressions and sins by His infinite blood.

We can rejoice with joy unspeakable and our hearts can flow with endless praise because of God's wonderful redeeming love.

Not because we are worthy but because of God's tender mercy we are saved from sorrow and woe.

Let us work together for one great cause that is to brighten every home, to bring joy to every heart, to love one another with brotherly love, trusting in His promises, obeying His commands for we know a good man's steps are ordered of the Lord.

My prayer is God bless every home in Grenada and save every lost man, woman and child.

Sincerely,
ENVOY J. T. PROCTOR

Grenada Has Greatest Day in History

At about 5 o'clock the news began to get hold of the population and early rising soon had everybody astir. "The armistice has been signed, fighting has ceased, peace has come and the Kaiser and family have left Berlin and taken refuge in Holland"—these words went from one telephone line to the other, from home to home.

The Sentinel published in this issue a letter from Ellis Clark from "Somewhere in France".

25 YEARS AGO IN GRENADA

From the Files of THE GRENADA SENTINEL

Mr. Lloyd Binford, a genial and popular young gentleman, of Duck Hill, spent a few days in Grenada this week. He represents the Prudential Life Insurance Company, and is a hustler in his business.

Mayor A. S. Bell has appointed Messrs. Jos. Newburger, W. B. Hoffa and J. W. Buchanan delegates to the Mississippi Business Men's League that meets in Jackson, Nov. 24 and 25.

Mr. William Caldwell, a popular young business man of Jackson, is to be married on November 10 at Grenada to Miss Norma Moore, an accomplished young lady of that city.

Suffering With SICK HEADACHES

Mr. Charles F. Todd, of Esteburg near Waynesburg, Ky., says:

"I was suffering with nervous headaches. About once a week I would have these headaches, and have to quit work, and go to bed for about twenty-four hours. I would have pains in my neck, and right behind my right ear."

"A merchant at Esteburg told me to try taking Black-Draught, which I did."

"It relieved me. From that time on, I would take Black-Draught as soon as I felt like I was going to have one of those headaches—and they wouldn't come on."

"Every few weeks, I take three or four doses of Black-Draught, and I feel so well, and do my work, and don't lose any more time with headaches." Get a package today.

Messrs. P. H. Dietz and W. G. Phillips, representatives of the Thatcher Medicine Co., of Chattanooga, Tenn., are in Grenada county on an advertising campaign. They are distributing samples to the heads of different families of their liver, blood and other medicines.

Misses Elizabeth and Ethel Moore, from the I. and C., of Columbus, were at home this week to attend the marriage of their sister.

Mrs. N. G. Pearsoll and two children, of Covington, La., are visiting relatives in Grenada.

Among those from a distance who attended the Caldwell-Moore nuptials Tuesday were, Mrs. Gordon McIntyre, Mrs. Innis McIntyre and Mrs. L. O. Wilkins, of Greenwood, Miss Jennie Nelson, of Carrollton, Mr. Herron and sister, Miss Bessie Herron, of Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Caldwell, of Jackson.

John Robinson's great show brought about 8,000 or 9,000 people to Grenada on Thursday, and the large tent was well filled, it being estimated there were about 6,500 present. Several thousand who came to Grenada did not attend, but contented themselves with watching the procession, and otherwise having a good time. The show, as a whole, was good and some wonderful acting by men, women and beasts performed. The menagerie was a good show, within itself. The great crowd was very orderly indeed.

Miss Ada Kate Hudson, of Oxford, accompanied by her little son, visited her sister, Mrs. Cooper here this week.

James Wright, of Arkansas, spending a few days with relatives here this week.

GRAHAM BROTHERS TRUCKS

BUILT BY DODGE BROTHERS

To the first half-million new Ford owners

TO THE half-million men and women who have received new Fords in the last eleven months, there is no need to dwell on the performance of the car.

You have tested its speed on the open road. In traffic you have noted its quick acceleration and the safety of its brakes. You know how it climbs the hills. On long trips and over rough stretches you have come to appreciate its easy-riding comfort. Continuous driving has proved its economy of operation and low cost of up-keep.

This is an invitation to you to take full advantage of the service facilities of the Ford dealer organization so that you may continue to enjoy many thousands of miles of carefree, economical motoring.

The point is this. You have a great car in the new Ford. It is simple in design, constructed of the best materials and machined with unusual accuracy. It is so well-made, in fact, that it requires surprisingly little attention. Yet that doesn't mean it should be neglected. Like every other fine piece of machinery, it will serve you better and longer if given proper care.

One of the best ways to do this is to take your car to the Ford dealer every 500 miles for oiling and greasing and a checking-up of the little things that have such a great bearing on long life and continuously good performance.

Such an inspection may mean a great deal to your car. To you it means thousands upon thousands of miles of motoring without a care—without ever lifting the hood.

Ford dealers everywhere have been specially trained and equipped to service the new Ford. You will find them prompt and reliable in their work, fair in their charges, and sincerely eager to help you get the greatest possible use from your car for the longest period at a minimum of trouble and expense. That is the true meaning of Ford Service.

IN OLD NEW ORLEANS

(By T. E. Winborn, Jr.)

We Meet Again—

Some Impressions—

General Robt. E. Lee.

Some weeks ago I wrote my last of a column which I had been running for several months and left my old home town for a great Southern city to try to acquire a little wisdom in a large university, but now after a month's absence in New Orleans, I thought perhaps the folks back home might be interested in some of the things I have discovered in this very interesting old city, and so I've decided to begin my little column again if the editor will permit me—thus we meet again. And like the late Mr. Taylor from Tennessee, "I hope you all are well, and get plenty ter eat, if yer hain't don't say nothing, if you are, I'm shore one hobo that's always got an appetite."

About the first thing a stranger notices about New Orleans is the absence of skyscrapers. In a city of about half a million, it is strange that there are no more buildings poking their heads into the skyline, and there must be a reason why 20 stories seems to be the limit for the tall ones down here. The trouble is there is no foundation upon which to build the mighty cloud-touchers. Nothing but muck seems to be the prevailing cry of every pile-driver to every contractor as they drive down, down, down, hunting for something solid upon which to build, and naturally muck is not a very good foundation upon which to build toward the stars, not very high any how, so the builders content themselves in the main with 12 or 13 stories and spread out instead of up.

New Orleans is one of the most cosmopolitan of cities, rivalling even New York in that respect. All types and nationalities seem to choose this old Southern metropolis as their home. At the place where I am staying, to give you some idea of the mixed thousands who call here their home, there are no less than four nationalities and three religions represented. There's a Jew, a Spaniard, an Italian and a Frenchman, besides several native Scotch-Irish southerners. The Jewish, Catholic, and Protestant religions are represented, all in a group of less than a dozen. And I have no doubt but what this condition exists all over the city. At least I have seen many nationalities and religions, more than I ever saw before, since I came to this old city.

GRENADA MEETS AGGIES IN CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

The executive committee of the North Central Mississippi High School Association has officially recognized the Grenada High School Football team as city school champions of the district, and the Lafayette County Aggies as the Agricultural High School champions of the district. On Friday of this week, November 16, these two teams will battle for the regional championship on the Ole Miss Field. The game is scheduled to begin at 1 o'clock. In the Aggies, Grenada will face the heaviest team it has played this season. The Aggies will average considerably heavier than the local boys. Grenada came through the fierce battle with Oxford High on Friday of last week with only minor injuries and it is hoped that the team will be able to enter the game Friday with full strength.

Despite the fact that the city is made up of such a conglomerate mixture of peoples and religions, yet it is a very much Southern city. All the hospitality and friendliness that has always characterized the South seem to reach the highest point of perfection here. That warmth of greeting, that easy politeness to a stranger, all the little things that give a meaning to the Mason and Dixon line, that give all Southerners a different air from their colder, more glory-seeking, less friendly Northern brothers, all this is here in New Orleans and quickly noticeable to a stranger. And right here I want to say that it is these little things of warmth and feeling that make me proud, that should make every man proud that he is a Southerner. What higher honor could we claim than that we sprung from the bosom of a people that produced such men as Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, and a host of others, that we come from a people who have gone down in history as one of the bravest, most sacrificing and most aristocratic species of the race that ever inhabited the globe? Am I proud that I'm a southerner? You bet I am. I wouldn't swap my parentage for all the gold in the world. I'm proud of that ancestor of mine for whom Fort Moultrie in South Carolina was named and I'm proud of all that the South has done and is. There's not a stain upon her fair hills, and I hope there never shall be. I guess I'm growing a little sentimental, but I agree with W. H. Alexander that it is the privilege of all those who say "I reckon so" and call themselves Southerners to be a little sentimental. That is one of our faults if you will have it a fault, but personally I do not call it a fault. Perhaps the South is sentimental, but better so than cold-hearted.

If I should leave out coffee in my discourse on New Orleans, I would be slighting what is New Orleans' pride. And I want to say that of all the black, thick, strong coffee that I ever had the pleasure to partake (and I do love that aromatic drink) none compares in any way with the strength, the thickness and blackness of this native New Orleans coffee. No where else is there any coffee quite like it, and I for my part do not want to find any quite like or anything like as strong as it. It is advertised as being unqualifiedly superior to anything in the way of coffee, anywhere, and maybe it is, at least it costs a dime a cup most everywhere and that's an evidence of superiority to me, but for my part I prefer Mississippi coffee, or Tennessee coffee or any coffee to this French-drip product that is so popular with the natives here. Perhaps I shall get used to it some day, but for the present, I must take that disgusting look that the waiter always gives me when I ask for weak coffee. I may be in New Orleans but I am afraid that I cannot do as New Orleanians do in this respect, at least not yet. And I would advise my Mississippi friends if they should happen to visit the metropolis of Louisiana to let the native coffee alone and acknowledge their inferiority by calling for weak coffee. Either that or get the original strong stuff and quaff it with the courage of a Napoleon and the iron face of a Lon Chaney, less you show its effects on your taste.

One thing that I've found cheap in this city is shoe shines. The colored shine boys seem to thrive on competition for I swear that there's at least one for every pair of shoes in the city. When you step out on the streets they almost mob you, they persuade, they threaten, they make you think that your shoes are the utmost in filth. And then when you decide to let them shine your offending members, at least three will come in to vie for the job. One will do it for a nickel, another for three cents and often, I've had them give me a perfectly legitimate shine for a penny. Yes, they offer you every inducement to have perfectly slick shoes. Still mine always seem to be dirty. It seems the weather is very good to these shine boys. It rains always at least once a day in the rainy season and plenty at other times and consequently it's a shine on and shine off, almost indefinitely.

Last night as I stood in Lee Circle where St. Charles Ave. crosses Howard Ave. and gazed up at the tall shaft upon which the noble figure of Gen. Robert E. Lee, the South's greatest, stands with his arms folded, something of awe stole over me. As I looked up at that great figure as he stood in the moonlight and gazed out on that land for which he gave his all, his beloved Southland, it suddenly came to me if it had been worth it, if we had carried on his great way of doing things, I wondered if that figure could come to life, just what would he say. I seemed to see him unfolding his arms and looking down at me and I could hear him pitying me and I could hear him saying to me, "My boy, my boy, how lazy you are, how little you are using those opportunities which I fought so hard for you to have, how lightly do you consider those brave forefathers of yours who shed their blood for you, and lost, and started all over again with nothing that you might be something some day, how lightly do you consider your Southland, beloved Southland that you should fritter your time away and make no effort to carry on to the end for its upbuilding as your forefathers did before you." I bowed my head with shame and the figure with infinite pity and compassion continued, "I knew that grandfather of yours, I know how he lost his all in the fight and I know how he came back home and started all over again that you might be somebody and now, what are you doing my boy, to make his sacrifice worthwhile?" and the figure stopped speaking, and I felt some of that unconquerable spirit of those other southerners long passed away, and I said "Yes, General, I have done so little to carry on the great responsibility left me by my forefathers that I'm ashamed, ashamed almost to even look at you as you stand here in the moonlight, but you've taught me a lesson, General, a lesson I hope I won't forget and from now on I'm going to do my best sir, to carry on that legacy left me. I know that I will never do anything as great as you have done or my forefathers but I can only carry on as best I know how, sir, so that when I meet you in another world, you may say that my life has not been wholly for naught, that at least I have tried to make myself worthy of your sacrifice." And the general seemed to smile, and I could hear him say as I turned away, "Oh, if only a few young men would take that attitude and carry it through, what a southland we would have," and then he folded his arms again and again gazed out on the land he loved so much, and I boarded a street car and felt miserable, little, and incapable to do anything worthy of such a man, and returned home but still I seem to see the general looking down on me and speaking and I feel an inspiration, an all-powerful ambition to do something he might think worthwhile.

GREAT IN DEFEAT

The radio speech of Al Smith Tuesday night showed that he is still the "happy warrior", even though defeated for the highest office within the gift of the American people. He offered no alibis for the Democratic loss but, to the contrary, his address was one that tended to inspire hope and confidence in the followers of Democracy. The New York governor gave convincing reasons for the existence of two major parties in the country and he also reminded his radio audience that the Democratic party is by no means dead. Any party that can poll nearly fifteen million votes most certainly is alive and is to be reckoned with in governmental affairs.

Smith's speech was a plea for a continuation of the fight for Democratic principles through a more effective party organization and should give cheer to Democrats over the country who apparently are discouraged over their defeat in the recent election.

LEGISLATURE TO INVESTIGATE

The investigations to be launched by the legislature mean that the solons probably will remain at the state capital indefinitely. The governor says that politics had no influence in his request for the investigation into alleged irregularities between the attorney-general and the former head of the tax commission.

The committee should go into the matter thoroughly in justice to all parties. No postponement should be had. If the charges are untrue, a clean bill of health should be given General Knox and Captain Inman, and that speedily.

HOW TO RUN A NEWSPAPER

Men will take the liberty to tell you how to run a paper, when they would not think of hinting to the merchant how to conduct his store or tell the preacher what to preach. They pay money for schools, and don't know whether Jimmy is learning the rule of three or how to hold a cigarette gracefully, but when it comes to the newspaper, there's where they all get off.

During the past week a friend wanted to know why we did not try to run a paper a little more along the lines of how Christ would run a paper. We don't know how that would be. In the first place, if Christ was back on earth we don't believe that he would go into the newspaper business at all. There is not an editor or a preacher that could tell the whole truth for thirty days and stay in the community in which he lived. If our friend doubts this statement let him try telling the absolute truth just one week and see where he lights.

Al Smith is to spend his vacation on the coast of the state that gave him the greatest proportionate majority of any state in the recent election. All Mississippi welcomes him.

Grenada county deserves a large-sized blue ribbon. The majority for the Democratic ticket in that county was nearly 30 to one, the result being 1,157 for Smith and only 39 for Hoover.—Jackson Daily News.

We hear that Wee Willie Upshaw is rejoicing over Smith's defeat. However, none of the credit is due to him or his cohorts.

Let's forgive the political parsons and the bolters for their sin—but let's don't let them play in our yard any more.

Visits Mt. Herman

The entire high school faculty of our city school with a class of entertainers visited the Mt. Herman A. M. E. church community last Sunday afternoon and rendered a program that was very entertaining. A splendid audience was in attendance and were so well pleased that they contributed $10.50 for the benefit of the church. The Mt. Herman neighborhood is among the leading communities of the county and from a religious and civic point of view, is one of the best communities in the county. Many interesting and worth while occasions have been pulled off at this historic center.

The boys "glee club" of the city high school made its debut at Powell Chapel A. M. E. church on Tuesday evening of this week and scored a high grade. The selections they presented were excellent. Mrs. A. M. Rogers, the instructor, realizes that she has some splendid voices and that they will under proper training develop into artists in vocal music. We advise the boys to go to it while they have the opportunity for there will always be a demand for that line of entertainment. The admission to hear the boys was only 10c. An appreciative audience were well pleased. The amount raised was $10.00 which was given to the church.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our deep appreciation to the many who were so interested in the welfare of our boy during his illness. It is in times of anxiety and distress that we learn to really appreciate our friends and those who were so good to him and to us have bound us to them by ties that cannot be broken. We want each of you to accept our heartfelt thanks for your extreme kindness and we hope in some measure to be able to repay you.

Sincerely,
 Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Rayburn,

Birthday Dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Bob Townes was the gracious hostess to several of Mr. Townes' friends Sunday evening at a most delightful "surprise" dinner for him in honor of his—(?) birthday.

After a delicious dinner was enjoyed a social hour of music and conversation brought the evening's entertainment to a close. The following gentlemen shared in Mrs. Townes' hospitality: Messrs. Donald Sharp, Charlie Wiggins, Henry Pope and William Wright.

P. T. A. Meets.

The P. T. A. held its regular monthly meeting last Thursday afternoon at the high school building. The devotional was led by Mrs. E. R. Henderson after which Mrs. E. B. Provine gave a splendid paper on "Character Building Through Contact".

Mrs. Sam Simmons, president, was in charge of the meeting and several items of business were brought before the meeting and passed on.

Mrs. Genie Wright and Mrs. J. E. Huffington went to Greenwood Monday to attend the Armistice Day celebration.

Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Rogers returned Saturday from a most enjoyable month's visit to Florida.

Mrs. E. S. Lewis returned Monday from several days' visit to her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lewis, Jr., and son, E. S. III, at Jackson, Miss.

See THE SHOW OFF at Grenada College Nov. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Seales returned Sunday from a visit to their sister, Mrs. Richardson, at Tuscaloosa, Ala. They were accompanied home by their little daughter, Mary Parker, who had been spending several weeks with her aunt.

Mr. "Boots" Jones, of Cleveland, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. G. B. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bynum and little daughter, Cornelia Love, of El Paso, arrived Friday to visit their sister and aunt, Mrs. E. G. Mohler.

Miss Alleen Ramsey spent the week-end in Winona at the Girl Reserve conference, having been specially invited to appear on the program Sunday.

Mesdames H. W. Baker, R. C. Trusty, and Frank S. Hill and Mrs. Tom James, who has been visiting Mrs. Hill, for the past ten days, drove over to Swan Lake Tuesday for the day.

Miss Elizabeth Mohler, who is attending the Mississippi Synodical College at Holly Springs, spent the week-end with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. E. G. Mohler.

Misses Annie Elizabeth Dubard, Dit Perry and Billy Chapuis attended the Girl Reserve district conference at Winona from Friday until Sunday. They brought back many helpful suggestions for the other girl reserves of Grenada. Miss Perry is president of this group of girls.

Mesdames Tom Meek and Cora Griffith were Greenwood visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Cas Heath was hostess to the members of her circle of the W. M. U. of the First Baptist church Monday afternoon. Mrs. R. L. Vandiver, newly elected president of the society, gave several chapters from the mission study book, on the life of Miss Moon, one of the first missionaries from the Baptist church to China. After the program Mrs. Heath served a most delicious salad course to the thirteen members present. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. Will Hill.

Miss Patton, who has charge of the girl reserve work for the state, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Grenada, interesting and organizing an adult girl reserve work, for all ladies who are especially interested in this phase of young people's activities.

Mrs. Kenneth Wood arrived Tuesday from her home in Jackson to visit her mother, Mrs. W. A. Campbell, on College Boulevard.

Additional Locals

S. S. Classes Give Party.
On Friday evening, November 2, a most delightful entertainment was given at the Masonic Temple by the two ladies' Bible classes of the First Baptist church under the leadership of their efficient teachers, Mesdames W. F. Martin and John Rundle.

The guests included the two men's Bible classes and all general officers and teachers of the Sunday School.

The guests were met at the door by witches and goblins of every sort, and all felt by the time they reached the scene of festivities that they had been fully initiated into the secret order of mysterious hand shakes.

One round of fun followed another with games, contests, witches' tales and the grand march of the witches.

Each guest had the privilege of having his fortune told and from the results no doubt Grenada still has much to expect from some of her favorite sons and daughters.

The eating contest was most bitterly contested, being won by Mr. J. B. Perry's side. No other verdict was expected for it was begun by Mrs. H. W. Alexander, carried on by others equally as hearty and ended by Rev. W. E. Farr.

At the close a delicious salad course with hot coffee was served to the approximately 175 participants. All left with the feeling that a genuine good time was had by all and that the bond existing between all adults of the Sunday School had been still further cemented.

Music Faculty Entertains.

Last Monday evening the music faculty of Grenada College entertained the members of the music department with a delightful party in the parlors of the White House which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with brilliant colored leaves and chrysanthemums. Misses Ione Mae Liller, Elizabeth Ferguson and Jesse Mae Gill were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. J. R. Countiss and Miss Corinne Laney. A musical instrument contest was one feature of the entertainment. At the close of the evening supper was served.

Patterson-Murphree.

Mr. William Patterson and Miss Gladys Murphree, both popular young people and members of well-known families of Pittsboro, Calhoun County, were joined in the bonds of holy wedlock last Saturday, Nov. 10, at noon, the ceremony being said by Rev. E. R. Henderson, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, at his home on Third Street.

Mrs. J. E. Shaw, Jr., is in Brookhaven visiting her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Honeycutt, and family.

Messrs. William Field, Jr., Frank Weir, Jr., and Jim Provine left last Monday via automobile for Texas to take up work there for the government in the surveying of the Rio Grande. These three have been connected with the U. S. Geological Survey at Greenwood since in the summer and will continue their work in Texas.

On Tuesday evening the new members of the faculty of Grenada College entertained the former teachers with an informal Russian tea in Miss Ferguson's studio. The room was artistically decorated to represent a Russian club featuring exotic coloring and atmosphere.

See THE SHOW OFF at Grenada College Nov. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Hughes and Mr. Erle Johnston motored to Memphis Tuesday, spending the day there.

Mrs. M. I. Noel, of Gulfport, is visiting friends in Grenada and Grenada county. Mrs. Noel, who formerly lived at Graysport, is being most cordially welcomed.

Much interest has been manifested at Grenada College over the class basket-ball games which have been taking place the past week. The first of the series were played last Thursday when the juniors won over the seniors and the freshmen over the sophomores. The games were continued Tuesday afternoon at which time the freshmen overcame the juniors and the sophomores the seniors. The final outcome of the contest was to be played yesterday (Thursday).

Most reverent and strikingly beautiful panorama of the tragedy of all ages—the world's greatest screen epic. Twenty marvelous sets picturing for the first time the principal scenes and events of the Divine Ministry of the Son of Man—

A production acclaimed by world-famed scholars, divines of every creed, press and public in this country and abroad, as the most ambitious presentation of the final years of the life of Jesus ever pictured on the screen.

Magnificent, dazzling, awesome, uplifting, inspiring, massive, beautiful, reverential, amazing, dramatic, spectacular—an epochal motion picture that will live forever in the hearts of mankind.

Twenty Businesses Boosting for Grenada

S. M. CAIN & CO.

One of the most essential business enterprises in any city anywhere in the country is that of insurance. Insurance is the guarantee of business preservation as well as of family protection after the insured has passed away.

The most important insurance operation in Grenada is that of S. M. Cain & Co., who are engaged in the general insurance business and handling fire, life, health, accident, burglary, auto and plate glass insurance. Only the larger and best known as well as the safest and soundest of insurance concerns in their respective lines are handled and represented by Mr. Cain.

S. M. Cain is one of Grenada's most progressive as well as highly respected citizens. He has extreme faith and confidence in the future of Grenada and looks forward to the day when it will be the center of the finest agricultural and industrial centers of the south as well as becoming the recognized capital of the cheese making industry of the United States. When in need of insurance of any kind or character give S. M. Cain & Co., a ring or pay them a visit.

JAMES CUFF & SON

The most popular mercantile establishment in Grenada is like the most popular similar business in any other city, it enjoys the patronage of the very best citizens and holds that patronage because of the quality in the stocks handled, the efficient service rendered and the courteous treatment of all patrons.

James Cuff & Son operate the most popular mercantile establishment in Grenada, its grocery and bakery departments being the two most successful departments of any business enterprise in Grenada. Only the finest of staple and fancy groceries are handled.

The bakery department is the most complete in Northern Mississippi and the cakes, pastries and bread enjoy a trade that covers all of Grenada County. When in need of the very best groceries and bakery goods give them a ring.

DIXIE CAFE

In the Dixie Cafe, Grenada not only boasts of being the home of the best and most up to date cafe in Mississippi but one that has been of real advertising value to the city because of its acknowledged reputation of being the best.

Not only is there style to the Dixie Cafe in the matter of its equipment, its arrangements and its service, but there is quality in the food served for the management have the knack of both proper service and proper cooking.

Vince and Tony Cannagio, proprietors of the Dixie Cafe, are men who have a complete knowledge of the cafe business. They enjoy the respect and confidence of their fellow citizens and take an active interest in everything that has to do with the progress and prosperity of their home city.

"ONE ELEVEN" SERVICE STATION

If there is one line of business in any city in which service must not only be complete but of the kind that is prompt and reliable, it is that which caters to the needs of owners of automobiles, trucks and tractors. It is because of its prompt and ever reliable service that the "One-Eleven" Service Station enjoys the big share of the patronage of the citizens of Grenada and of Grenada County. It is popularly known as the station "Where Service Is a Habit".

Miss Estelle Rollins, proprietor of the "One Eleven" Service Station is one of the most successful business women in the south. She has built her business on a service that is both real and satisfying. In addition to a greasing and washing service, the big station handles Texaco Gas, En-Ar-Co Motor Oil, Waverly, Pennzoil and Havoline Oils and tires and auto accessories of all kinds. The phone number is 111 so when in need of service that is reliable and satisfying give 111 a ring.

The S. M. Brown Motor Company has the exclusive distributing rights of the DeSoto Six in Grenada and Grenada territory.

The S. M. Brown Motor Company also operate Superior Service Station, one in which every possible service is efficiently rendered to the owners of DeSoto cars as well as to owners of other makes. In addition to the service station, a complete line of auto accessories is also handled.

S. M. Brown is not only one of the most progressive business men of Grenada but takes an active interest in everything that pertains to the civic advancement of his home city and the upbuilding of the agricultural life of its trade territory. When a new auto or real service is wanted, just telephone 550 or call at the Brown place of business.

PANHANDLE OIL COMPANY

In order for the automobile or any other mechanical automotive equipment to produce best results, it is essential that only the best gasoline and the purest of oils and greases be used. The recognized superiority of the Panhandle Oil Company's products was gained only because of their high quality of power content.

The products manufactured and distributed by the Panhandle Oil Company are Panolene Motor Oil and Greases, and Pan-O-Pen Pure Pennsylvania Oil. Not only are they powerfully good but there is power in the pull they add to the machinery they serve. They also sell an excellent high test gas known as Green Noxious.

A. R. Dockery is the agent of the company in the Grenada territory and the manager of the Grenada plant and station. He is one of the hundreds of Grenada citizens working to the end that their home city will eventually become the recognized cheese making capital of the United States.

SUPERIOR SERVICE STATION

Citizens of Grenada have a real right to be proud of that tremendous business enterprise established by S. M. Brown and operated under the name of the Superior Service Station. They have a right to be proud in the fact that it is not only the largest of its kind in North Mississippi but one that has no superior in Mississippi for the character of service rendered, in the quality of work performed and the facilities provided for taking care of every possible need of the owners of automobiles, trucks and tractors.

The Superior Service Station is the authorized Alameda Service Station of Grenada. If you want your car properly Alameda, it can be done true to specifications and true to form only at the Alameda Service Station of the Superior Service Station.

The Superior Service Station furnishes a complete service in every department to auto owners. In addition to washing and storing of cars, it has a complete vulcanizing department and a one day battery service. These departments are under the management of capable men and the service is the very best he had anywhere.

Its gas filling department is also complete, the station specializing in its famous Green Noxious gas, a gas that once used will make you a regular and a constant customer. The next time you are in need of service of any kind or character call at the Superior Service Station or ring Phone 550.

GRENADA GROCERY CO.

Grenada's reputation as a distributing center is largely around the activities of the Grenada Grocery Company, one of the largest and one of the most progressive concerns of its kind in the state. By dint of conscientious and efficient service, the handling of only the very best of food commodities and a willingness to serve as well as please, the Grenada Grocery Company has enjoyed a remarkable growth.

The Grenada Grocery Company specializes in the wholesale distribution of food for man and beast.

GRENADA

Lying in the heart of one of the most fertile sections of the country, surrounded by a wealth of natural resources, most potent in their future possibilities, lies Grenada, to be in the future, one of the cheese manufacturing capitals of the United States and heart center of the nation's greatest dairying territory.

Grenada is the home of an industrious citizenship and therefore a modern and progressive city. It is a city of fine homes, modern schools, splendid church edifices and a happy and contented people. It is one of the most beautiful cities of the Southland, a beauty materially accentuated by the artistic tastes of a people who love their city and have a natural aptitude for blending the beauty of nature with the creative beauty of man.

In addition to being the center of what will be the great dairying territory of the nation, Grenada is today the center of a prosperous agricultural territory in which diversified farming is fast succeeding the one-crop theory of the average Southern farmer. Grenada is also the center of a prosperous industrial activity and is one of the leading railroad centers of the state as well. Its manufactured products are many and the annual payroll is one that runs into large figures.

Grenada has one of the best built business sections of any city of its size in the country. Its merchants are a live and progressive set of business men, men who take an active interest in all that pertains to the progress and prosperity of their city and men who put into their civic activities the punch that has made their individual business enterprises the talk of all North Mississippi.

Grenada is a city of beautiful homes, well paved streets and the very best of sidewalks. Its educational facilities compare with those of any city in the country and its school edifices are structures of which any city might well feel proud. Grenada is proud of its schools and being proud naturally sees to it that they maintain the very highest educational average through employment of the best of teachers and a complete curriculum. Grenada is equally proud of her churches. They represent the faith of all Christian religions. While the citizens of Grenada are naturally religious they are extremely liberal in their views and naturally tolerant in their treatment of the constituted privileges of their neighbors and their friends.

One of the liveliest business organizations in the South, the Young Men's Business Club, is to be found in Grenada. It receives liberal support from the business interests and is destined to be a big factor in the progress of the commercial and industrial growth of the city. It is a well officered organization and one that functions perfectly.

Grenada has another organization of which it is real proud. It is the Grenada County Farm Development Association, an organization that has done more in its 18 months of existence to develop and promote agricultural development in Grenada county than all other agencies combined. The association pays particular attention to dairying and it is due to its efforts that the county is today numbered as one of the coming dairying centers of the South. The association has been in existence less than two years but in that time the sales of farm products have increased more than 500 per cent. The business men of Grenada make monthly contributions which take care of the running expenses of the association. A field man is employed to help farm-

It carries the most complete stocks of all standard commodities that are nationally known and have quality in their making as well as reputation in the trade.

J. H. Oliver, president of the Grenada Grocery Company, is one of the leaders in the business life of Grenada and one of the city's most progressive citizens. He has a deep and abiding faith in the future of his city and is a willing and earnest worker in all movements that have for their motive the advancement of civic progress.

GRENADA DRY CLEANERS

Despite the fact that a little more than a month has elapsed since the Grenada Dry Cleaners opened for business, the calls for its services have taxed its facilities. There is a reason for this and that reason is found only in the fact that the work turned out is of the most satisfactory character and the service as efficient as the work is good.

Douglas Abel, well known in and around Grenada, is in charge of the cleaning department of the business and gives his personal attention to its every operation. The motto of the company is "If our work isn't satisfactory don't pay." Just telephone 561 and we will call for your pressing or cleaning necessities.

The new business is equipped with every late modern device for the cleaning and pressing of the clothing of both ladies and gentlemen. Charles Flurry, Douglas Abel and D. M. Wright are the owners of the business and are among the progressive business men of Grenada.

foregoing articles of incorporation as their act and deed on this the 16th day of October, 1928.

A. N. RAYBURN, Notary Public. My commission expires August 15, 1931.

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI, County of Tippah.

This day personally appeared before me, the undersigned authority R. G. Lowrey, incorporators of the corporation known as the Lowrey Brothers, Inc., who acknowledged that they signed and executed the above and foregoing articles of incorporation as their act and deed on this the 12th day of October, 1928.

A. J. GUYTON, Notary Public. Received at the office of the Secretary of State this 17th day of October, A. D., 1928, together with the sum of $20.00 deposited to cover the recording fee, and referred to the Attorney General for his opinion.

WALKER WOOD, Secretary of State.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 17, 1928.

I have examined this charter of incorporation and am of the opinion that it is not violative of the ers with their problems and to supervise the buying of cows.

Several Hungarian families, experienced in agriculture and dairying, have settled in Grenada county as a result of the work of the association and individual citizens. A large number of skilled farmers of foreign birth are expected to be added to the roll of honor in the course of the next two or three months.

While Grenada county enjoys the reputation of being a great producer of cotton, diversified farming is beginning to assert itself, with the result that the farmers now practicing that type of farming are extremely prosperous and their success is the incentive that is rapidly turning the county away from the old theory of one financial crop. Last year 7,000 bales of cotton were produced in the county. The production this year will be as large but in addition thereto there is a much larger harvest than ever before of hay, corn, potatoes and other standard farm crops.

The city and county of Grenada have reason to be proud of its many industrial activities. One of its largest is the plant of the Ayer & Lord Tire Company, with its annual payroll of $200,000 and operating one of the largest tire treating plants in the United States. The treated tires are shipped to railroads in every section of the United States and thus is one way in which Grenada is nationally advertised.

There are 22 passenger trains through Grenada each 24 hours. Grenada is strategically located as to railroad facilities for it is on the main line of the Illinois Central with the New Orleans, Chicago and the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley lines of that great system also entering the city. The Illinois Central has one of the most modern depots on its system in Grenada.

One of the finest organization buildings in the state is that of the Masonic Order, which is housed in a magnificent home representing an investment of $50,000.

Grenada has five handsome church edifices. The Methodist Church is now building a magnificent $75,000 edifice.

Grenada has a Rotary Club and a Civic League that play important parts in everything having to do with civic advancement. The Rotary Club pays special attention to boys' work in addition to its usual Rotary functions. The Civic League is composed of ladies of the city and takes an active interest in city beautifying work.

The light plant of the city is owned by the Mississippi Power & Light Company. A sub-station is operated just beyond the city limits.

Grenada has two of the best banks in the state. The city also has one of the best hospitals in North Mississippi and one that is modernly equipped and in which the city takes great pride.

Grenada has 10 miles of asphalt paved streets. Grenada county is well covered with fine graveled roads, radiating from Grenada and reaching into every part of the county. The Jefferson Davis Highway and Federal Highway 61 pass through Grenada County and therefore bring thousands of tourists through both city and county every year.

The city of Grenada was founded in the year 1836, that being the year in which the two rival communities of Tullahoma and Pittsburgh were united under the name of Grenada. The history of Grenada is therefore, in large part, a history of North Mississippi.

BELL MACHINE WORKS

There is no industry in Grenada so essential to the personal needs of its citizens as well as to the needs of the farmer and agriculturalist as the Bell Machine Works, an industry that specializes in repairs of every kind and character and one that especially caters to repairs to buggies, wagons and other types of vehicles.

The plant is modernly equipped and employs none but the most skilled of mechanics. In addition to its facilities for making repairs to horse drawn vehicles it is also specially equipped for making repairs to automobiles, trucks, tractors and other automotive equipment. It has also a fully equipped acetylene welding force. Ben Moore is in charge of the horse shoeing department, and is a most capable blacksmith.

C. T. Bell, proprietor of the enterprise, is one of the recognized leaders in the industrial life of Grenada. He takes an active interest in everything that has to do with the civic advancement of the city and the agricultural development of the surrounding country.

HOFFA & MOODY

There is no service so necessary to the business and industrial life of the city, state and nation, or so essential to the preservation of happiness among citizens as insurance. It is the safety valve that assures the salvation and preservation of business operations when threatened by danger, and the preserver of home life when the insured head of a family passes away.

The insurance firm of Hoffa & Moody, managed by T. E. Moody, is recognized as not only the real authority on insurance problems in North Mississippi but the representatives of only the very best insurance companies in all departments of insurance service in the world. They write everything in the insurance line that is legitimate and also legitimate bonds of all kinds. The business is located on east side Main Street.

T. E. Moody has been a lifelong resident of Grenada and is looked upon as not only one of its most representative business men but most highly respected citizens as well. He takes an active interest in all that pertains to the progress and prosperity of Grenada.

GUM COAL COMPANY

The time of the year has arrived when it is most essential that citizens see to it their supply of soft coal as well as of anthracite is purchased and placed in their storehouse for use during the cool months of the winter season. There is nothing so essential to the comfort of the home or the business building as the maintenance of warmth through the use of good coal and the Gum Coal Company is in a position to supply every need of every citizen of Grenada and Grenada County in that respect.

In addition to only the highest and best grades of coal, the company also handles only the best coke and can supply at all times the needs of those who require the use of coke. J. T. Gum, executive head of the Gum Coal Company, is one of the most progressive citizens of Grenada, takes an active interest in everything that has to do with its progress and prosperity and is recognized leader in its business life. The telephone number of the Gum Coal Company is 422.

SPAIN'S BAKERY

"Quality Tells" is the slogan of Spain's Bakery in Grenada and it is because there is quality in all bakery products produced by Spain's Bakery and they are made from only the purest of ingredients.

Spain's Bakery commands the trade of the very best citizens of Grenada and Grenada County and is famous throughout Northern Mississippi.

Spain's Bakery specializes in the manufacture of the best of bread, rolls, cakes, pies and pastries of all kinds. The bakery plant is one of the best equipped and most modern in appointment of any in the state.

H. B. Spain, proprietor of the business, is one of the most popular citizens of Grenada. He takes an active and personal interest in all movements that have for their purpose the civic advancement of his home city of Grenada. Phone 46 when in need of bakery products.

444 TIRE & BATTERY CO.

Grenada is fortunate to have a live and progressive store like the 444 Tire & Battery Company, whose telephone is also 444. Here you will find a full line of the celebrated SEIBERLING ALL-TREAD tires, THE PROTECTED TIRE, and the UNSURPASSABLE COPELAND ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS, the DEPENDABLE refrigerators. Also inner tubes and batteries. Vulcanizing of tires and tubes is done night and day, batteries are recharged, repaired and rebuilt.

A complete stock of tires, tubes, batteries, accessories, and electric refrigerators are carried at all times and no effort is spared to please the public and give prompt and satisfactory service. The manager of this company is Mr. F. R. Lickfold, Jr. whom you will find not only an enterprising citizen, but a gentleman who is agreeable and pleasing to do business with.

THE ECLIPSE

The most popular establishment of its kind in any city is always evidenced in the patronage accorded and the general citizenship of Grenada have extended that reputation to The Eclipse.

The Eclipse is the recognized leader in the field of drug sundries and that have both the stamp of purity and of quality. In addition to drugs the store has one of the finest cigar counters in the state, a soda fountain that is the envy of all other similar institutions in North Mississippi. Stationery, the latest in sheet music and a complete line of toiletries are also carried.

M. S. Matthews, the proprietor, is a recognized leader in all civic matters of a progressive nature, has the confidence and deep respect of his fellow citizens and operates a commercial establishment of which Grenada citizens have a just right to feel proud.

SPOTLESS DRY CLEANERS

The best equipped plant in the entire state of Mississippi for the cleaning and pressing of clothes of all kinds, is that of the Spotless Dry Cleaners of Grenada, of which J. H. Murray is the owner. The Spotless Dry Cleaners specialize in the dry cleaning of the clothes of men, women and children, specializing particularly in the fancy dresses of the ladies. A new rug-cleaning department has lately been added, this department being a complete service to every householder of the city.

The plant enjoys a large parcel post business and prompt attention is given all such business. The management is a firm believer in efficient service as well as in the very best of work and it is because of service and quality workmanship that it enjoys the patronage of the leading citizens of Grenada and Grenada County.

BARWICK'S

It would be hard to find a more complete grocery store in all the south than the one owned and operated by H. K. Barwick in Grenada. Mr. Barwick is a progressive business man who believes in keeping abreast of the times and in adopting those business policies and methods which best suit the needs of his trade and the necessities of his business.

The Barwick store specializes in staple and fancy groceries of all kinds, only those of recognized purity and nationally known being carried in stock. He pays particular attention to food supplies for he realizes there must be both quality and purity in them if they are going to the homes of Grenada citizens.

Mr. Barwick is also a believer in fair prices for the groceries he sells, being satisfied with a fair price on everything sold. He is also a believer in efficient service. When in need of groceries either pay him a visit or give him a ring.

DYRE-KENT DRUG COMPANY

The leading drug store of any city is always evidenced in the patronage accorded it by its home town citizens and in Grenada that patronage just naturally goes to the Dyre-Kent Drug Company's magnificent business emporium.

There are reasons why this leading drug store draws the trade and that reason is largely due to the purity and quality of the drugs and medicines handled, the efficiency of service, courteousness of treatment and the very best soda fountain in town. They are the reasons why the Dyre-Kent Drug Company are the leaders in Grenada. Two registered pharmacists are constantly employed, the store making a strong specialty of its prescription compounding department.

J. D. Dyre and G. S. Kent, the owners, are numbered among the most progressive citizens of Grenada. They take an active interest in all movements having civic advancement as their basis and are firm believers in Grenada being the future cheese making capital of the United States.

GRENADA HOTEL

The delight of the traveling public is a good hotel, one in which there is real comfort, efficient service and at the same time where the warmth of the welcome adds that personal home touch so appealing to all. Such a hotel is the Grenada Hotel, a hostelry that has added materially to the reputation of Grenada and one that is the cause of its being made the favorite stopping over place of the traveling public.

The Grenada Hotel is not only one of the most modern in the state but its rooms are large and airy and its furnishings of the best and tastefully arranged. It has 70 rooms with 70 baths, a magnificent coffee shop, one that has the finest cuisine to be found in the south, and a service that meets every want of the guest.

T. L. Densmore, proprietor of the hotel, is one of the most experienced hotel men and one who takes an active interest in everything having to do with the progress and prosperity of his home city and all the surrounding territory.

HOLE IN THE WALL

The Hole In The Wall may not sound like being the habitat of a really progressive business enterprise, but in this case it is the home of one of the very best eating houses in Northern Mississippi, and a place that enjoys the patronage of the very best citizens of the city.

Mrs. H. M. Brown is the proprietor of the business and she has proved to the world that she knows not only how to run a popular cafe but how to serve the most appetizing of meals and short orders.

Everything is new about The Hole In The Wall but the name. It is modernly equipped and arranged and its cuisine is perfect.

PROF. G. M. EVERITT ENDORSES SARGON

Well Known Mendenhall,
Miss. Educator Says It Did
Him More Good Than Anything He Knows.

One of the outstanding facts in connection with the introduction of Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills is the large number of prominent people who have given their endorsement. Ex-Governors, former United States Senators, Ministers of the Gospel, State Legislators, men and women prominent in business and professional life, as well as countless hundreds from every walk of life have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell the people what the revolutionary medicine has done for them.

Among the latest of these is Prof. Gaines M. Everitt, Sr., well known educator, of Mendenhall, Miss., who has taught school for 37 years. Prof. Everitt is a cultured Methodist gentleman and father of 9 children. He says:

"I can highly recommend Sargon to anyone who is in a rundown condition. I feel sure it has done me more good personally than anything I know. Indigestion and constipation were my worst enemies. My food would not digest and I was in the habit of taking a purgative every day or two in order to obtain a bowel movement. I had weak, dizzy spells and frequent headaches and was losing weight."

"After I had taken only one bottle of Sargon my indigestion seemed to be gone. I can eat most anything I want now and it does not hurt me in the least. My bowels are regular and free and my liver seems to be acting splendidly. Those weak, dizzy spells have disappeared. I don't have headaches any more and I have gained fully ten pounds."

Sargon may be obtained in Grenada from the Corner Drug Store.

HALF- HEARTED Never Felt Well

"I don't see why women will drag around in a half-hearted way, never feeling well, barely able to drag, when Cardui might help put them on their feet, as it did me," says Mrs. Geo. S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga.

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks."

"I could not work, and just dragged around the house."

"I got very thin. I went from a hundred and twenty-six pounds down to less than a hundred."

"I sent to the store for Cardui, and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. My side hurt less, and I began to mend in health."

"Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I do not feel like the same person. I am well now, and still gaining."

Lesson for November 18

PAUL'S EXPERIENCE IN JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Acts 21:18-23:22.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How a Boy Helped His Uncle.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How a Boy Helped His Uncle.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul Proves His Courage.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Religious Prejudice and Fanaticism.

I. Paul's Vow (21:18-26).
Upon Paul's arrival at Jerusalem representatives of the church there gave him a most cordial reception. In order that the brethren in Jerusalem might graciously receive him, it was proposed to him by the elders that he take a Jewish vow to prove that he was in no way opposed to the law. The effort was to remove prejudice.

II. Paul's Arrest (21:27-40).
How far this act conciliated the Christian Jews we are not told, but it only enraged the unbelieving Jews, causing them to resort to mob law. These maddened Jews on the basis of a supposition seized Paul, dragged him from the temple and beat him mercilessly, intending to put him to death. Paul was rescued from the mob by the Roman guard. The chief captain, not being able to get any information from the howling mob, bound Paul and started for the castle. In order to protect him from the murderous frenzy of the mob, the soldiers lifted him upon their shoulders and bore him up the stairs, thus shielding him from violence.

III. Paul's Defense (22:1-27).
Paul's chief concern was not his own safety. He used this last opportunity of witnessing for Christ.

1. His just claim for a hearing (vv. 1-3).

(1) His birth (v. 3). He was Jew-born in Tarsus, a city of no mean reputation.

(2) His education (v. 3). He was educated in a school under the tutelage of Gamaliel and instructed "according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers."

(3) His zeal (v. 3). He was as zealous toward God as those Jews who were trying to destroy him.

2. His former attitude toward Jesus (vv. 4, 5).

"I persecuted this way unto the death," so that his attitude was one of hatred as was that of the Jews.

3. How his attitude was changed (vv. 6-16).

This change of attitude was brought about by the intervention of God. While on his way to Damascus with authority to bring the Christians to Jerusalem to be punished, Paul was smitten to the ground by a light from heaven, and the voice of the Lord said, "Why persecutest thou Me?" When Paul inquired as to what he was to do, he was told to go into Damascus where he would be told what to do. Ananias was sent by the Lord to make known His will.

4. The Lord commissioned him to go to the Gentiles (vv. 17-21).

It was not of his own will that he preached to the Gentiles, but by the Lord's direct commission.

IV. Paul Before the Sanhedrin (23:1-10).

The Roman officer, in order to learn why Paul was arrested, commanded the chief council to assemble, and brought Paul before them.

1. Paul's earnest look at the council (vv. 1, 2).

This was a solicitation of their honor to give him a fair hearing, and also a look of conscious integrity and unflinching courage.

2. Paul's stern rebuke of the head of the council (v. 3).

"God shall smite thee, thou whitest wall." This was a just sentence, no doubt directed by the Lord. Paul showed that he had the highest respect for the office, but the man then occupying it was not worthy of it.

3. Paul's appeal to the Pharisees (vv. 6-10).

Seeing that he could not get a fair hearing and perceiving that the body before him was made up of Pharisees and Sadducees, he appealed to the Pharisees hoping to get their attention, for his preaching had something in common with their belief.

V. The Lord Stood by Paul (v. 11).

He was in great need of grace to sustain him. He may have begun to question the wisdom of his going to Jerusalem, but this assured him that his course was right, and thus comfort was brought to him.

VI. The Conspiracy to Kill Paul (vv. 18-22).

More than forty men banded together for the purpose of getting Paul out of the way. They placed themselves under a curse to abstain from eating and drinking until they had murdered him. This plot was known to Paul's sister's son (v. 16), who reported it, and thus doubtless saved the apostle's life.

Mmes. Pope and Prouditt

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Henry Pope and Mrs. Eugene Prouditt entertained twenty-two friends at an enjoyable bridge tea at Mrs. Pope's apartment on First Street.

Chrysanthemums decorated the living room where the games were played. Place cards with Thanksgiving turkeys and pumpkins on them were used to find the guests' places at the tables. A plate lunch was served before the games were started. Orange and white mints carried out further the color scheme.

At the conclusion of four series of games the following ladies, who held high score at their table, received a deck of cards: Miss Elizabeth Jones, Mrs. Tom James, of Swan Lake, the house guest of Mrs. Frank Hill, Miss Juliette Doak, Mrs. Ben Brown, and Mrs. Roy Doak.

Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Brannan Anderson gave their father, Mr. W. M. Dubard, a most happy surprise last Thursday, which was his birthday, by having all of his children with him for a birthday dinner.

A most delectable meal was served at the noon hour with a lovely birthday cake forming the centerpiece for the beautifully appointed dining table.

The following were the guests for the day of Mr. Dubard and Mrs. Anderson: Mr. and Mrs. Ward Allen, of Drew, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hinds, of Tupelo, Mrs. William Lomax and son, William, of Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Vassar Dubard and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dubard, of Dubard. The many friends of Mr. Dubard join in wishing for him many more happy birthdays.

Party for Mrs. James

Mrs. Hubert Calhoun entertained most delightfully last Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Frank Hill. There were three tables of bridge made up of the following ladies: Mrs. James, Mrs. Frank Hill, Mrs. R. C. Trusty, Mrs. Lawrence Olson, Mrs. Roland Jones, Mrs. Ben Perry, Mrs. Jim Horn, Mrs. Roy Doak, Mrs. E. L. Bass, Miss Robbie Doak, Miss Lida Coffman and Mrs. Eloise Wilkins.

Mrs. James was presented a pair of lovely decorative candles as guest prize.

A delicious salad course was served by the hostess, preceding the games.

Mrs. Pope Entertains

Mrs. Henry Pope was hostess to two tables of bridge Saturday afternoon, when she entertained the following young ladies: Miss Katherine Todd, Miss Sallie Billups, Miss Daisy Leigh Roane, Mrs. Roy Burt, Mrs. Spivey Kent, Mrs. Durwood Harrison and Miss Teresa Scott, of Oxford, the house guest of Mrs. Pope.

Mrs. Roy Burt received an attractive folder of stationery as high score prize and Miss Sallie Billups, the booby prize.

A most tempting refreshment was served at the close of the games.

Mesdames R. C. Trusty, E. L. Bass, Roland Jones and Frank Hill and Miss Elizabeth Jones, spent Wednesday in Minter City, having gone over to attend a tea that afternoon given by Mrs. David Sweeney and Mrs. Fred Rogers.

Circle No. 2 of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church enjoyed a most delightful meeting afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Murray. During the first hour of the meeting, the members worked on their articles for the bazaar, after which the mission study lesson was given by Mrs. Ben Graham, leader, and Mrs. T. J. Brown. Delicious ice cream and cake were served at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. A. T. McIlwain and two children spent Tuesday in Grenada with their daughter and sister, Miss Lela Bell McIlwain, at Grenada College. They were en route to Greenwood from Corinth, where Rev. Mr. McIlwain will serve the Greenwood Methodist church as pastor for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Boone spent Sunday in Memphis as the guests of their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Boone.

Mesdames H. K. Barwick, Willis Strother and Nan B. McCormick spent Saturday afternoon in Greenwood.

Mesdames Frank Gerard, Jas. R. Withers and Homer Weir were Greenwood visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Bruce Newsom, accompanied by Misses Lucille Cook and Ina Belle Fleury, expect to leave Sunday for Jackson to spend a few days.

The Epworth-Hi of the Methodist church enjoyed a most enjoyable entertainment last Friday night at the home of Mrs. Vassar Dubard at Dubard. About twenty-five or thirty young people were present and a most delightful time was had. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening.

Mrs. H. M. Parker left last Friday to spend several weeks visiting relatives at Gloster, Miss.

Mrs. Horace Spain and little daughter, Peggy, are spending several days in Memphis. Mr. Spain accompanied them Sunday morning, returning Monday night.

Mrs. J. O. Ramey and Miss Linda Ramey and John Kimbrough Ramey, of Oxford, were the guests of Mrs. Paul Sisk Friday afternoon, having come down for the Oxford-Grenada football game.

Miss Katherine Lufkin returned Tuesday from a most enjoyable ten days' visit to her cousin, Miss Ruth Alden, at Anna, Ill.

Mrs. W. H. Lewis and daughter, Miss Mary, spent the past week-end in Grenada. Their home is in Memphis.

Miss Teresa Scott, of Oxford, was the attractive guest of Mrs. Henry Pope for the week-end.

Mr. J. C. Bradford, of A. & M. College, spent the past week-end with Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Grist were called to Arkansas Sunday afternoon on account of the death of Mrs. Grist's father. The sympathy of the community goes out to her in her sorrow.

Mr. Louis Dubard, who is attending A. & M. College, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dubard, at Dubard.

Mr. Billy Triplett, of the University at Oxford, spent Saturday and Sunday with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Triplett.

Mrs. Sam Hall Garner returned home Saturday night from several days' visit to her mother, Mrs. Mary Leigh, in Memphis.

top of the Lebanon, 4600 feet above sea level. Here he showed us what he claimed a "Cedar of Lebanon", but because of the mist, we could see only the trunk about ten feet up. We again drove a short distance and went through snow piled to each side of the road fully ten to fifteen feet deep. Within one hour and a half we were again in the valley, with the Lebanon behind us. About an hour's drive across this fertile farming valley, we drove into a town that looked as though it had been destroyed by an earthquake, or bombarded by heavy artillery. This town is

Baalbek

According to tradition, this town has the names of Cain, Nimrod, Abraham and especially Solomon connected with it. To please some of his heathen wives, he built a Temple to Baal from which the name Baalbek, "Seat of Baal", was derived.

Baalbek now has about five thousand people and is of especial interest because of the immense ruins here.

We drove to Dr. Alouf's home, which is a private hotel, for lunch, and after lunch he took us through the ruins. Such ruins! Such huge structures! Such facilities for caring for the details of worship and the crowds that gathered there thousands of years ago! The great Temple of Baal, with its remaining six columns seventy-five feet high and seven feet in diameter then Roman temples—then a Christian church—then fortifications—these are the ruins of all! There upon the ground is a pillar or column twenty-five feet long, and about three feet in diameter—of Syene Granite (which means it came from Assuan in Upper Egypt). How could men transport for hundreds of miles, carve and set in place such huge pillars? Over there a distance stands four columns forty feet high and eleven feet in diameter! Everything is on a stupendous scale. There is too a striking variety in the architecture. As well as being massive many of the designs in the ceiling here and there are delicate and most artistic. As we were finishing our tour of the temple ruins we passed through one of the immense subterranean halls where once the waiting sacrifices were kept and the horses of the pilgrims were stalled and noted nearby some of the rooms in which these pilgrim worshippers lodged.

On the remaining walls that are left, we saw stones that measured forty and fifty feet in length by fourteen feet square. These stones were, some of them, thirty feet above the level of the ground. Just at the edge of the city and half a mile from the temple ruins is claimed to be the greatest stone ever quarried by the hands of man and moved from the quarry. This stone measures seventy feet by sixteen by sixteen and has an estimated weight of 1500 tons. How did these people move these stones? Man has excavated here and has never found any rollers. It does not seem possible that they could have been dragged. How did they lift them on the walls? Well as you try to answer these questions, you are in my condition. No one can see Baalbek without becoming uncomfortable and dissatisfied on account of curiosity.

I cannot give you a very good description of the country between Baalbek and Damascus, as my thoughts remained in Baalbek until our driver had brought us almost to Damascus. It was late in the afternoon when we drove through the streets, and on to our hotel in

Damascus

We are now in one of the most ancient of the cities of the world. Through its streets Abraham probably passed and secured in Eliezer the steward of his extensive household. The city was for a while a garrison of King David. Ahab, of evil eminence, established bazaars in Damascus. Naaman, high captain, yet a leper, lived here. The successive world powers from Assyria to Rome coveted and conquered Damascus. Near here Paul was converted, in its synagogues he preached, from its wall he escaped. It has three trade routes, east to Bagdad, south to Mecca, and west and southwest to Beirut and Egypt, and has a population of about 200,000.

After supper we went to our rooms for study, writing and rest after a strenuous day of traveling, but it was long before we went to sleep on account of the talking in the lobby. These Arabs in their conversation sound as though they were fighting rather than peacefully conversing. We could hear them quite a distance.

After breakfast we walked to the beginning of "The street called Straight" (Acts 9.) down which Paul walked as he came into Damascus, where he came in touch with Ananias, etc. This street varies in width from about six feet to fourteen feet. Here you see the real oriental bazaars. On either side of the street as you walk you can see here a person making a coat of sheep hide with the wool still on it, there an old man in oriental dress stringing beads, here articles of tin and brass, there harness, saddles, etc. No middle-man here, the article is direct from producer or manufacturer to consumer. As we stood for a moment a boy passed carrying a tray of bread, spilled the loaves in water, picked them up again and was ready for the next customer. At the end of a short lane leading off Straight Street we entered the so-called home of Ananias. Here if tradition is to be believed, Paul was welcomed and baptized.

Damascus

At the end of Straight Street, we entered the factory where beautiful rugs, embroidery and articles of brass and ivory are made. Here they work children in age from five or six to sixteen, paying them ten cents per day. In different parts of the factory can be seen large men with whips standing over these little workers seeing that they keep busy. It is truly a pitiful sight. Many of these children were told to lose their eyesight completely by the time they are eighteen, because of the glare of the sun reflected in the brassware as they work cutting beautiful designs and hammering silver wire into the designs.

Leaving the factory, we drove on to the ruins of the old wall, and at one corner can be seen a barred window which is said to be the window out of which Paul was let down in a basket as recorded in Acts 9. Traveling onward we came to the home of Naaman the leper. And even to this day lepers are kept here. We saw several with hands eaten off and other parts of their bodies gone with this terrible disease.

A little farther on we entered the Moslem cemetery, where all graves are concreted in mound-like shape. Our guide led us to a mausoleum in which we could see the tomb of Fatima, the daughter of Mohammed. As we were returning to our hotel late in the afternoon we passed within two blocks of our hotel a lot that was used for a carcass dump. There were a few mules, camels and dogs lying there, partially decayed, and dogs eating the flesh. It took us only a moment to realize these animals were dead from the odor that greeted us. You have heard of the "Dogs of Damascus", well I have never seen such large ones, some of them look more like small calves than like dogs. They live off the bodies of dead animals. It is not an unusual experience to stumble over a piece of flesh on Main Street, or a bone with the decaying flesh partly eaten off. I said that Damascus was the oldest of cities, and I want to add right here I am sure it is the dirtiest of cities also. As we returned to our hotel that evening, you can imagine how much we enjoyed our meal after this experience. The hotel owner did not lose anything that evening by our eating.

Next week I will take you to see and hear the howling and whirling dervishes, and on down to the Sea of Galilee.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MAKE THEIR ANNUAL REPORT

The King's Daughters Circle met at ladies' rest room on Tuesday with the leader, Mrs. W. H. Whitaker, presiding. After the devotional the regular business was disposed of. Several families were reported as having been given aid in various ways since the October meeting. The annual report as sent to the state convention was read and is given for the information of those who so generously aided in carrying on this work. Chairmen of committees for Christmas work were appointed as follows: Soliciting, Miss Jane Young, Investigating, Mrs. H. J. Ray, purchasing, Mrs. W. H. Whitaker.

The annual report follows: The circle has doubled the membership since January 1928, the present enrollment being 70 with a new goal of 100 to work toward. In March we celebrated the thirty-ninth anniversary of the organization with a public meeting and a good program with attendance about 100.

On the newly adopted standard of excellence we scored 90 points. The items of attendance and magazine subscribers are what we failed to attain.

It has been the privilege of the circle to give financial aid to 121 persons. Scores of others have been visited and given words of encouragement, comfort and counsel.

A rest room was supervised during the six days of the Grenada fair, where mothers and babies were cared for. Several hundred enjoyed the rest and quiet it afforded.

One girl was sent to a rescue home and the baby of another girl was placed with the Home-Finding judgment, splendid personality and congenial nature. And the same may be said about Mrs. Cunningham and their children.

This will be the last sermon of Mr. Cunningham before going to his new charge as presiding elder of the Grenada district.

It is expected that the congregations at the First church Sunday will not be confined to members of that denomination, as this man and his family were held in the highest esteem by all Corinthians.

KIRKMAN ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Keeton and Mrs. Barker called on Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McCormick a while Sunday afternoon.

Paul Phillips, William McCormick, and Leroy Floyd, of T. A. H. S. spent the week-end with homefolks.

Mr. Cecil Jacks, after having been in Phillip for the past two months, is at home again.

Mr. Ray McCorkle, of Oakland, was a visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McCormick Wednesday evening.

Mr. J. S. Henley and family have recently moved to Hardy, where Mr. Henley has purchased a farm.

O. D., Jr., the small son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Phillips, was on the sick list the past week.

Miss Vera McCauley, the teacher at Kirkman school, took all her pupils scaley bark hunting Friday afternoon. A nice time is reported by all. Kirkman school has enrolled thirty-one pupils and there are several more families to move in.

The Style that Re-Styles all Motor Cars

Through Chrysler originality, a new mode in automobiles has come into being. The new Chrysler "75" and "65", creations of Chrysler engineering and artistic genius, literally stamp as old-fashioned the earlier precedents in motor car beauty.

A Chrysler Traveling Style Show will be held in Grenada, soon under the auspices of the Grenada Auto Company, local Chrysler dealers. All body types in "65" and "75" models will be shown, giving the public the opportunity to see the most beautiful line of automobiles ever designed.

Watch for it. Tell your friends about it.
